General Comment

The Government is welcome to "offer" assistance when and if requested to those requesting it. However, the Government should have NO input on the decisions, I choose to make regarding my own personal financial decisions. You did not earn it, I did and I already paid Taxes as I earned it and will (unfortunately) again when I withdraw it from my tax saving investments.

Your input is not requested or desired. You have demonstrated your inability to be financially responsible,so please allow those that are responsible to continue their fiduciary discerning talents..

Thank you
